

Insurance companies often have in-house counsel with understanding of insurance guidelines, laws, regulations, and rules in addition to training and understanding of legal procedures as well as endlessly deep pockets. This creates a 'David v. Goliath' type situation just when the insured needs help most!

Did your insurance company wrongfully deny a claim?

Did your insurance broker fail to fully review your coverage needs resulting in a subsequent uninsured loss?

Did your premiums or deductibles unjustly increase?

Even in situations where all is being well looked after by insurance coverage, assistance in reviewing the final settlement release documents may be available before signing off further claim rights 'forever'.

Assistance may also be available in providing Commissioner of Oaths services to commission sworn declarations including the Proof of Loss documents that finalize the claims process.
